Orbitkey: three commercial observations from ProfitPulse01*Growth outpacing working capital discipline

Orbitkey has grown revenue 40 percent over three years while still funding new launches through Kickstarter, not from cash the business generates. That pattern usually means cash is trapped somewhere between supplier terms, inventory held across five warehouses, and wholesale collections timing.

02A genuinely diversified customer base

More than 1,000 stockists across Australia, Europe and the US, alongside direct online sales to customers in over 100 countries, means no single account can move the business. That diversification is a real strength and is worth protecting deliberately as the wholesale book keeps growing.

03Five warehouses, one capital question

Running five third party logistics warehouses to serve a hundred plus export markets is an operationally sophisticated setup for a 44 person team. The open question is whether capital in inventory, freight, and production runs earns the highest return across that network.

These are observations offered in good faith. Orbitkey has built something genuinely impressive. The question is simply whether the financial architecture matches the ambition.
