Three commercial observations from ProfitPulse

01

Five sites, one visibility question

Newstead, Sydney, Melbourne, Gold Coast and Ballina now sit under one brand, built from a two person start in 2011. Past 30 staff, multi site advice firms often lose sight of which office or adviser carries the margin. A Workforce Capacity and Utilisation Review puts a dollar figure on that.

02

47 percent growth is a margin test

Smart50 ranked the firm 25th nationally on 47 percent three year growth, a rate that usually outpaces the reporting a growing advice practice was built for. A Strategic Growth Diagnostic maps revenue, capacity and margin headroom for the next 12 months, backed by a costed plan.

03

Three awards, no visible board pack yet

My Wealth Solutions has won GPS Wealth Practice of the Year three times, most recently for 2022 to 2023. That level of recognition tends to invite investor, lender or partner conversations an informal reporting rhythm cannot support. An Annual Plan and Board Pack builds that template.

These observations are offered in the spirit of a genuine conversation, not a criticism. My Wealth Solutions has built something impressive across five locations. The question is simply whether the reporting keeps pace with the growth.

Workforce Capacity and Utilisation Review

$5,000 one off

A four week review of how adviser time and capacity translate into revenue and margin, giving Guy and Ben a dollar figure view of capacity headroom across all five sites.
